10:56 GameDev Animation Part 1 - Skyline! - The Green Method GameDev Animation Part 1 - Skyline! - The Green Method GameDev Animation Part 1 - Skyline! - The Green Method A prototype of the character we have created at The Green Method for the massively multiplayer online game I am working on called Vertical Wolf. This game is set in a unique world, where the landscape is constantly changing. This video features detailed on how we needed to create a new walk cycle for this character. We needed to create a new cycle, as the character jumps. They would get damaged from touching the ground, and we wanted the character to walk like a wolf. We wanted it to feel light, and happy, so we created a cycle that flies like a frisbee. After creating the flying cycle, we used it in the game, and felt that it was a cool and fun prototype of the new walk cycle we need! We were able to create a fun and efficient flying cycle. This prototype was based on a new system of hopping, jumping and flying. This is just a prototype, and we are not going to use it, once we have completed the new cycles we want to use. This will give us time to make the new cycles, and even add more fun elements to them, before using them in the game. 0:53 TATV 2014The Eye of the Arwi : Skyline - The Green Method TATV 2014The Eye of the Arwi : Skyline - The Green Method TATV 2014The Eye of the Arwi : Skyline - The Green Method The Eye of the Arwi : Skyline - The Green Method Hello and welcome to The GreenMethod!
